

CONGRESS FOR THE NEW URBANISM FLORIDA CHAPTER

presents

MIAMI21: UPDATE

Want to know more about Miami21? This is your chance to become better informed about this important issue prior to the City Commission's public hearing scheduled for June 28th.

Come hear Elizabeth Plater-Zyberk of Duany, Plater-Zyberk & Co., the lead consultant of Miami21's large multidisciplinary team. The session will include both a comprehensive overview of the project and the opportunity to ask in-depth questions.

The CNU Florida Chapter presents this talk for its members and for the public, in an effort to promote education about Miami21 and New Urbanism.

The event takes place

Monday, June 25, 6:30 pm

Glasgow Hall

University of Miami School of Architecture

1215 Dickinson Drive

Coral Gables, FL 33146

RSVP: contact the School of Architecture at 305.284.3438.

About Miami21: The City of Miami Planning Department has embarked on a mission to overhaul the city's zoning code to create a more predictable and efficient regulation. The name of the project, Miami21, represents "Miami of the 21st Century" and entails a holistic approach to land use and urban planning, broadening the scope of a traditional master plan to become a truly comprehensive plan. Miami 21 is intended to provide a clear vision for the city that will be supported by specific guidelines and regulations. For more information, see www.miami21.org

About CNU and CNU-Florida: The Congress for the New Urbanism (CNU), founded in 1993, advocates the restructuring of public policy and development practices to support the restoration of existing urban centers and towns within coherent metropolitan regions. It stands for the reconfiguration of sprawling suburbs into communities of real neighborhoods and diverse districts, the conservation of natural environments, and the preservation of our built legacy. See www.cnu.org for further information.

CNU Florida was CNU's first full chapter. Chapters bring CNU's message home to the regional, state and multi-state levels, providing new ways to take part in the movement. See www.cnuflorida.org for further information.
